What is the NHCRWA Fee on my water bill, and why does it change every month?

While not all water bills look exactly the same, most of the information they contain is similar. On some part of the bill, there will be a breakdown of costs incurred during the last billing cycle — broken down into charges for “Water”, “Sewer”, and the “Regional Water Authority”.

The Water and Authority items are based on the amount of water used (measured in thousand gallon increments).

Here's how it works.

- The NHCRWA charges each MUD for the (metered) groundwater they pump from their well(s) and the surface water delivered to them by the Authority.
- The NHCRWA does not bill any individual home owner/customer for the water they use; that is the responsibility of the MUD.
- Based on meter readings, the District in turn applies the RWA fee to their customers' bills based on how much water they use, so the amount may change monthly. (Current RWA rate times gallons used = RWA amount on the bill.) Bottom line, the more water a customer uses, the higher the total RWA amount will be.
- Do the math. If the RWA amount is higher than the “formula”, contact your MUD to request an explanation of the surcharge.
